ZR 3 FAR OFF COURSE LIKELY HEADED FOR NEW YORK

CRACK SUNSHINE SPECIAL WRECK FATAL TO 2

SENATOR BRANDEGEE OF CONNECTICUT COMMITS SUICIDE

POSITION IS IN LINE BETWEEN AZORES AND LAKEHURST

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Picking up speed the ZR-3 was making 75 miles per hour shortly after noon in reports to the Radio Corporation of America here. The location given by the craft indicates that the ship is far off her original course, presumably headed for New York direct without going by Bermuda. Her new position is in direct line between the Azores and Lakehurst.

CHATAM, Mass., Oct. 14.—At 9 a. m. today (7 a. m. Boston time) the ZR-3 in a radio message to W. C. C. the Radio Corporation of America, station here reported her position as Latitude 40.25 north; Longitude 44.00 west.

"All is well," the message said. Fine weather was being encountered it was said and the giant dirigible, roaring towards America reported the steamship Collingsworth directly beneath her.

WCC reported being in direct communication with the ZR-3 practically throughout the night from Amon. It is expected to maintain contact throughout today.

Half an hour after sending her position to WCC, the ZR-3 began receiving the government wind and barometer reports from the U. S. S. Milwaukee.

Working intermittently all thru the night on wave lengths of 2200 and 2,300 meters. Station WCC maintained practically ideal communication with the ZR-3, officers said. The dirigible used a wave length of 1,510 meters.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 14.—Another warning that a storm is sweeping down from the north caused postponement again of the flight of the Shenan doah from here to Camp Lowis, Washington.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 14.—The ZR-3 is heading into a severe storm, the navy weather service announced today but if the big dirigible changes her course she may avoid it.

The weather service broadcast the following message to the dirigible, which has been in touch with American stations since last night:

"Local tornado on ship's route but seems tending northward. If ZR-3 heads toward Charleston, S. C. she might avoid it."

Her wireless crackling out cheerful messages that all aboard are well, at least three of her four motors roaring rythmically and speeding her towards her goal the Zeppelin ZR-3 with four Americans and 28 German officers and men was drawing near to the United States today.

Storms were brewing in the dirigible's path and a local tornado was reported by the United States Navy Weather Service at 3 a. m. but it was pointed out that the disturbance was moving northward and that the Zeppelin was expected to avoid trouble.

At 8 a. m. calculating the ZR's diminished speed—her commander Dr. Eckener, had cut the airship down to 40 miles an hour—the dirigible was approximately 1,000 miles from Bermuda. She had some 1,700 miles yet to cruise before reaching Lakehurst, N. J.

American warships were scurrying to positions whence they best could aid the ZR-3 with reports of weather conditions, which now are the only cause for concern.

Throughout the night and early morning the ZR-3's wireless kept up a steady stream of reports—sometimes spluttering vainly for connections with land stations, sometimes ripping out a series of V's, the wireless test letter, always the messages were signed with the letters NERM, the Zeppelin's radio signature. And always the cheery report "all well."

MORE LOCATIONS MADE NEAR BAINS CREEK'S GASSER

The discovery of gas in the Woodbine formation across the Navasota river, on the Rich Kennedy farm, by the Bains Creek Petroleum Company, is arousing some little interest. It is believed that as the significance of this discovery becomes known that it will result in quite a rush of activity here. In other fields, the discovery of such proportions usually results in general excitement, it is pointed out by local citizens(but in this instance caused only a flurry. However, it is resulting in quite a number of locations, it is understood, and quite a number of additional tests will likely start up soon.

BAD INVESTMENT IN REAL ESTATE CAUSES TROUBLE

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Senator Frank Brandegee of Connecticut, republican, was found dead in the bath room of his home, a suicide. The body was fully clothed in a sitting position on the floor with a tube from an open gas jet in his mouth. Apparently he had been dead several hours. The police barred all callers pending the coroner's decision.

A note addressed to George Jones, chauffeur, dated yesterday, was found on the lower floor, read: "Dear George—I inclose $100 for you, same for Emma. I am in bath room on top floor. If you go up beware of gas. Goodbye. Frank Brandegee." Attached to the envelope were two $100 bills.

The persons mentioned in the note were servants.

After an investigation the coroner issued a suicide certificate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The suicide of Senator Frank Brandegee was due to "personal financial troubles," caused by real estate investments, Secretary of War Weeks said here this morning. "I have been entirely familiar with Brandegee's personal business affairs and know that's the reason for taking this rash step, due to financial troubles resulting from adverse real estate investments," Weeks said.

CONSERVATIVES AND LIBERALS IN BRITAIN UNITED

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Conservatives and Liberals have united to defeat Labor in the forthcoming general election.

Although no official admission of such an anti-socialist compace could be obtained from spokesmen for either of the old parties, the purpose was evident today.

In many constituencies, either the Conservative or the Liberal candidate has withdrawn—clearing the way for a straight fight against Labor instead of a triangular contest which might end by giving the seat to the government party.

The two older parties will do their utmost to prevent re-election of Prime Minister MacDonald in his home constituency.

1924 Cotton Weighed In Mexia Surpasses That of Last Year

1924 cotton will surpass that of last year by about 1,000 bales weighed at Mexia, is the opinion of Roy Stokes, Public Weigher. The local yard had received 3,561 bales at noon Tuesday; as compared with 3,321 received on the same date last year. The total number of bales received last season was 3,730, which is 169 bales over what has already been received by the public weigher.

The cotton is coming in now at an average of about 50 bales per day, the weather being ideal for the farmers. September is always the biggest month for the gins but the crops have been pretty steady during this month. Some farmers have reported that they are through for the year, while others are only about two-thirds through. With about two months yet to go, the local cotton men are very optimistic over this year's record. Mexia is drawing cotton from a larger area than last year and is becoming more and more the headquarters for the farmer in this rich agricultural section of the Lone Star State.

MEXIA EVENING NEWS,
Mexia, Texas.

Dear Sir:

There were 32,352 bales of cotton, ginned in Limestone County, from the crop of 1924 prior to October 1st.

No comparison made at this date with last year as we did not make a report for this date.

I am, very truly yours,

PATRICK HASTINGS

Patrick Hastings, Attorney-General of Great Britain, caused the overthrow of the Ramsay MacDonald Labor Ministry by quashing the prosecution of Editor Campbell, of the Communist Workers' Weekly, who had been charged with inciting British soldiers to mutiny. Liberals in the House of Commons charged he acted under political pressure, and brought about a vote of censure for the Government. Hastings, explaining his withdrawal of the prosecution, declared the Communists wished to make a martyr of Campbell.

CEMENT PLUG BEING DRILLED IN MOODY TEST

Drilling out the cement plug in the Moody test at Tehuacana is underway this afternoon. Ed Malmquist of Houston has been up in recent days, representing the Goose Creek parties who are making the test. The Hornbeck, this side of the hill, being drilled by J. B. Patty et al, is almost half cleaned, according to afternoon reports.

Drilling is progressing slowly but satisfactorily on the Roscoe Cook test, southeast two and a half miles. Also progress is being made on the Speight, where so much fishing trouble has been encountered on the way down.

The Boyd test, northeast, is approaching the chalk depths.

Camp Logan P. O. Is Being Razed

(By United Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 14.—If buildings could talk—

Hundreds of thousands of letters were doled out to soldiers at Camp Logan—letters that said "of course you'll come back," and others that breathed of deeper romance. Workmen found hundreds of names scrawled on partitions. There was a newspaper clipping of President Wilson's 14 points, pasted on the wall. But memories of the postoffice at Camp Logan will live longest in the memories of Texas soldiers now scattered to all sections of the state.

Dr. George W. Truett's message at the First Baptist church, Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock, drew a crowded house. Many visitors were present from distant points in Limestone county and other counties adjacent to this. His message was pronounced magnificent and soul stirring by all who heard him. He extolled the citizenship here for building such a magnificent plant as is represented in the First Baptist church. Dr. Truett stated he hoped to be able to return sometime within the next year for a series of services lasting several days and in a conference with Pastor Joe Jeffers, Assistant Paul Harper and sevarl deacons set next April as the definite month of his coming. This is held to impart ideas to secretaries and to acquaint them with their full duties. The matter of sending T. B. Haines, local Secretary, to this school will be considered by the local organization.

SPORTLIGHTS.

The Mexia Black Cats meet the Marlin Bulldogs Friday afternoon at Rimes park in Marlin.

The Black Cat's sweeping victory over the Ennis aggregation last week, looked mighty good from the side lines. The boys have the "stuff" to beat Marlin if they will only use it to the best advantage.

The game Friday will be the first interscholastic league conference game that the Marlin Bulldogs have played this season.

Class B high schools are those which have a high school enrollment not exceeding 250 students. The counties in the Mexia district besides Limestone are: Falls, McLennan, Bell, Hill and Ellis.

The most logical contenders for the district championship are Mexia, Belton, Marlin, Italy, Itasca and West.

After the Blackcats defeat Marlin they have an open week which as yet has not been filled. Possibly a game with some county team will be arranged for Oct. 24th.

Glover has improved one hundred percent at Quarter since last season and running the Blackcat team like a veteran.

The line with Lucas and Thompson at tackle positions, Corley and McKenzie at guards with Bennett at pivot man is a hard combination to beat.

The backfield men and ends are difficult to pick the most valuable players. Buford is one of the most spectacular fullbacks who has yet played on the local gridiron. While Perkinson and Karner are the hubs of one of the best coached high school teams in the district.

Coach Poteet has been instilling the fighting spirit, and clean football into the squad from the beginning and that is a combination which will win respect and admiration for any football team even though they go down in defeat.

But the Blackcats do not intend to go down in defeat when they tackle the Marlin Bulldogs Friday. They are going with the intention of adding another scalp to their belt for the dear old Mexia High. Go to it Blackcats, you have the school and whole city of Mexia behind you in victory or defeat.

Coach Chas. Lewis' Westminster Wildcats go to Hillsboro for a game with the Junior college to be played on Friday. Their last two games have ended in scoreless ties but they should break their jinx this week and roll up a few scores on the Hill county boys.

The real football weather has not yet hit this section and it is not unnatural that most games played so far have been slow and sluggish.

The Aggies-Sewanee game at the Dallas fair Saturday was almost in an oven. The stadium prevented a breeze from reaching the field from any direction and the hot sun had no pity on the players or spectators.

WEWANT and will pay top prices for J. K. Hughes Developing, Mexia Heart of the Pool, E. L. Smith Oil, Texon Oil & Land, Boyd Oil and Walker Caldwell. Republic Trust Company, Incorporated in Texas. UNLISTED SECURITIES DEPARTMENT, Dan Waggoner Bldg., Fort Worth, Texas.

T. A. MEMBERS CARRY FIGHT TO FARRELL

The Texas association club owners met at the Raleigh hotel Sunday afternoon, in a heated controversy, without having accomplished a great deal along any lines. Every club in the league was well represented.

President A. B. Johnson called the meeting to order, and read the minutes of the last meeting held by the club owners. After the reading President Johnson offered his resignation as the president of the Texas association. The resignation was accepted provided Mr. Johnson would serve until a competent successor could be named.

A great amount of controversy came up when the discussion as to the contract drawn up during the summer in which the Waco baseball club should go back to Dupuy at the end of the season was brought up. One member stated that the league could not survive as long as Dupuy had anything to do with the Waco franchise. A committee was appointed to take up with J. H. Farrell, secretary of the National association of minor leagues, the matter in an effort to determine how H. A. Dupuy and the Waco baseball franchise stands in relation to the Texas association, and to take up necessary steps in the protection of the organization.

Until things concerning Dupuy and his standing in the matters discussed above are learned more clearly no new officers of the league will be elected.

Following are the names of those in attendance at the meeting: Austin, R. J. West; Corsicana, Dude Ransom; Marlin, N. E. Stockton; Mexia, Gray Forrest; Waco, H. A. Dupuy and Temple, Henry Meadows. Others present were Charles Clover W. C. Arnett and J. G. McIntosh of Mexia; Paul Moore and D. Poindexter of Corsicana; A. B. Hubbard of Waco, and Jinx Tucker, secretary of the league.—Waco Times-Herald.

PROGRAM OF PROGRESSIVE LIFE THEME OF DR. SMITH SUNDAY; MANY ATTEND AFTERNOON HOUR

"The Program of a Progressive Life" was the subject Sunday afternoon by Rev. Herbert Booth Smith, D. D. pastor of Immanuel church, Los Angeles.

The auditorium of the First Methodist church and Sunday School annex were crowded at the 2:30 hour when he addressed the gathering. He had to leave on the 3:45 train for his home, where he will arrive just in time to be present at the eighth anniversary of his pastorate.

The speaker was so pressed for time that he did not have an opportunity to dwell long on the last half of the discourse. His delivery and message were well received.

The text for the sermon was Philippians 3:13 14. "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: But this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize."

In part he said:

"I love the Epistle to the Phillippians. It is a pastoral letter written by a preacher who had been arrested by the Roman government, to a people whom he loved. I think Paul was more devoted to the Phillippians than to the people of any other church he had founded, because they stand out above all others for their cordiality to the man who had brought them the gospel. Their church had not attained 11 years of growth, and yet had not forgotten him. At this particular time, Epaphroditum had arrived after a dangerous journey, bringing with him supplies for the Apostle's wants, and Paul sits down and writes a letter overflowing with appreciation and gratitude.

I wonder if I may make a confession. Paul loved the people of his parish. So do I. They had responded freely to Pul's needs and desires. So have mine. They were singularly free from the factions and troubles of many of those early churches. The same is true of my people, and Pauls' letter is a communication rather than a warning.

Did you ever see a man unlock his soul? That is what Paul does here. He unlocks the safety deposit vault of his very being in these five verses which cluster about my text. He puts all the passion of his life into five words: "That I may know Him." We stand in the holy of holies of the apostle. He shows us the grand plan and specifications of that wonderful career. Here you have his 39 articles; his confession of faith; his shorter catechism, Magna Charter, Declaration of Independence; Footpath to Peace, all in one My text is his five pointed star, his formula for success. Someone once wrote a pamphlet "How to Succeed 5c." Paul tells us "How" here free.

You can very easily touch the five points of the star: "Brethren I count not myself to have been apprehended," first of all, a discontented present; "But forgetting those things which are behind," a forgotten past; "and reaching forth unto those things which are before", a beckoning future; "This one thing I do', a unified aim; "I press toward the goal for the prize", a strenuous race. We have thus run around the circumference and touched the points of the star. Now let us move in from the periphery to the center. Let us get at the heart of Paul's program, if we can"

Nothing is more tragic than a lost ideal. The Christian is like a man riding a bicycle. He is either going on or going off. Here are two artists, I bring before you for the sake of contrast. One, standing before his latest production, burst into tears exclaiming "I shall never do anything great again, because I am satisfied with my work. There was the tragedy. His hand had caught up with his brain, and there was no room for growth. On the other hand, the widow of the great artist Opie said that in nine years during which she was his wife, she never once saw him satisfied with his work. Often he would enter the room and throw himself down in despair, crying "I shall never be a painter as long as I live." So it is in the Christian life. I remember the letter which Dr. Speer says he received in the Foreign Mission Board office some years ago from man on the Pacific Coast who was offering himself for missionary service, and he began by saying he had entirely consecrated himself to the Saviour's work. He said he had been completely baptized by the Holy Spirit, and he felt he was fully qualified for the work required of him. Dr. Speer's first comment was this: "Now what can you do with a man like that? Is there any hope left for such a man. "The trouble with that man was that he had caught up to his stars. Ah, give me, on the other and, the men of the long look and the distant vision, who say: "We were dreamers, dreaming greatly, in the man stifled town; we yearned beyond the sky line, where the strange roads go down."

Kipling puts the idea well for us in his poem, "The Explorer": "There's no sense in going farther, tis the adge of cultivation; So they said, and I believed it, broke my land and sowed my crop, Built my barns and strung my fences in the little border station, Tucked away below the foothills where the trails run out and stop."

The man seems to be satisfied with the present tense and to lose, the call of the beyond.'

"Till a voice as bad as Conscience rang interminable changes on one everlasting whisper, day and night repeated, so; something hidden. Go and find it. Go and look behind the ranges; lost and waiting for you, go. So, I went, worn, out of patience; never told my nearest neighbors." Of course not, they would have glued him there. "Then I knew the while I doubted, knew His hand was certain o'er me. Still it might be self delusion, scores of better men had died. I could reach the township living, but . . . . He knows what terros tore me. But I didn't, but I didn't. I went down the other side."

"KEEP Your Credit GOOD"

The Man Who Robs Himself

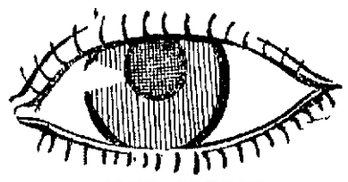
The man with the credit-rating "poor" is handicapped from the start. FOR CREDIT is the basis on which business men, bankers and professional men judge character.

They figure that the man who will not play square with the merchants who trusted him will not do any better with others.

A man may be worth millions and yet be so slow in settling his obligations that merchants will refuse him Credit.

On the other hand, a ditch digger, working hard for a mere few dollars a day but realizing the importance of Making Good His Word Promptly, can buy anything he wants ON CREDIT.

WE WATCH



YOUR CREDIT

We weed out men or women who do not pay their bills.

We have a Clearing House through which we merchants of Mexia can secure accurate Credit Information, and learn how a customer has been paying his bills.

No man can make a practice of buying first from one merchant and then from another without meeting his obligations.

If you don't pay your bills every merchant knows it and handles you accordingly.

Picking Baseball Winners For 1925

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Winning pennants in strings has become such a custom in the major leagues that he thought naturally arises after the world's series. "Will the Senators and the Giants repeat?"

It is no more possible to answer the question now than it was after the series last year, because form doesn't last over a protracted period. The fickleness of dope was well illustrated during the past season when the surprising Senators came through as the pennant winner in the American League over the New York Yankees.

When the entries in the two leagues drew up to the wire last April, it was almost the unanimous opinion that the Yankees should have no great difficulty in winning their fourth straight championship and that only a McGraw could steer the Giants around the competition that was threatened from Pittsburgh and Cincinnati.

As the Boston Red Sox caused a temporary surprise and the Senators came through with a permanent shock in the American League, the older circuit had the baffling Brooklyn Robins as evidence that it is impossible to figure a team's form over a season.

The best tumble that the Senators got from the experts was that they were an experiment with a kid manager and that they might have to fight hard for a place in the first division. All the recognition that the Robins got was that it was the worst looking team in the major leagues and would be fortunate to keep out of the cellar or the ground floor.

The prospects of the Giants and the Senators in the 1925 pennant races quite naturally depend upon the opposition that will face them. From all appearances at this early date they will have plenty of competition.

The opinion has been expressed in the past two years that when the Yankees finally cracked that they would do it with a complete explosion that would toss them into the second division. The former world's champions are not a young ball club. They needed patching last year, and they need more patching for another pennant fight. Unless the scouts are able to find something for Colonel Jake Ruppert to spend his good money on, the Yanks hardly figure as the outstanding challenger next year.

To rebuild the team, the Yanks have one young outfielder, Earl Combs, and a young first baseman, Lou Gehrig. They need a young catcher better than Hoffman or Bengough, and they need about four young pitchers to be ready to step in for Bush, Shawkey and Jones. Hoyt has given promise each spring of developing into a great pitcher, but he has always stopped on the way. Pennock had of a great season, but he may fall off next season, as star pitchers usually do.

ANCIENT AZTEC TEMPLE SOUGHT BY CALIFORNIANS

(By International News Service.)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—The loot of an Aztec temple—gold, jewels and rare ornaments—valued at more than $3,000,000, is the object of a treasure hunt launched here by three Californians.

The treasure believed to be buried in Antelope Valley, not far from Los Angeles, is being hunted by George L. Murphy, Glen Foster and Joseph Jurick, who have already started intensive digging for the lost fortune.

An old tobacco secret re-discovered—

1870—
Wellman's famous old secret

1921—
revived for Granger

1924—
a popular seller in 32 states—a quarter-million smokers

A new richness from an old-time process

Made for pipes—cut for pipes—packed sensibly to save money

NOW it can be told. Three years ago we decided to revive a famous old secret method of mellowing tobacco—"Wellman's Method", it was called.

For three years we have been quietly trying it out—we, and about a quarter-million shrewd pipe-smokers who discovered it for themselves.

No whirlwind campaigns, no "special offers", no extravagant claims; Granger Rough Cut has made good on its taste alone. There could be no better proof of its quality.

Now we are ready to "tell the world".

An extraordinary pipe tobacco. "Wellman's Method"—now ours exclusively—not only mellows tobacco, but "rounds it out"—gives it a new taste, richer and milder. There's no other method like it, nor any other tobacco like Granger.

And not only differently mellowed, but cut differently—cut for pipes. The Rough Cut burns more slowly, hence smokes cooler—and a pipe-load lasts nearly twice as long.

And finally—notice the package.

If Granger Rough Cut were packed in fancy lithographed tins, it would cost 15 cents.

But wrapped in smart heavy foil, you get this fuller, longer, cooler smoke at a third less cost. Foil instead of costly tin—hence the price.

Too good to be true? Ask any man who has tried it. Better yet—get out your pipe!

10¢

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—
The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

Drunk And Dressed Up—Then And Now

(By United Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 14.—And here's another way of describing the difference between Volstead and pre-Volstead days.

Pat O'Leary, police officer when a police run was a vital factor in Houston, but for the past several years connected with the constable's department recently returned to a beat. Said Pat:

"Pounding a police beat is nothin' like the old days. When the saloons were wide open a cop had to work for a living; now he dresses up."

PIMPLES & BUMPS TAKE THE JOY OUT OF LIFE
Girls, and boys, too, whose faces are "broken out," rough, pimply and blotched, imagine all sorts of weird things.
The worst fault it leads to is using just anything which promises them relief from their condition, which oftener makes their trouble worse. Never put anything on your skin which has not been proven by the test of time and public opinion to be right. In this connection the phenomenal success, which is called Black and White Ointment, and the soap, too, offers sufferers from such skin diseases the one reliable and dependable means of relief and restoration of their skin to that clear, smooth and lovely condition it was in their youth.
Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are economically priced, in liberal size packages. The 50c size of the ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—(Adv.)

GREAT SHIP IS NEARING THE COAST OF THE U. S.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Speeding from the Azores Islands to Lake hurst, N. J., the ZR-3 at 8 a. m. today was 1,200 miles off New York, according to estimates of Navy Department authorities.

Still without direct communication with the giant dirigible officers based their estimate on two long dispatches received from Captain Steele, American observer aboard at 4:15 a. m. today via the Boston navy yard.

Steele said the ship had turned her blunt nose due west after passing the Azores, eliminating the Bermudas from her route and was pushing her way through the air at a good speed with three engines. The others have been cut off to save fuel.

If nothing occurs to check her speed the ZR-3 should arrive at Lakehurst sometime tonight or early tomorrow morning, according to calculations.

A slight accident gave the crew a few anxious moments when one of the gas cells was torn over the Azores but it was speedily repaired Steele said.

The first of the messages apparently was filed by Steele at 1 p. m. yesterday. It was relayed to the department by the cruiser Detroit, stationed in mid-ocean via the Boston navy yard and says:

"ZR-3 passed Azores this afternoon. Wonderful view of islands. Dropped bag of personal mail from crew by parachute. Rose to 5,000 feet and valved gas as ship was too light and blew most down. One gas cell slightly torn in descending but immediately repaired without damage. Running with three engines for economy, making 48 knots air speed following light breeze and heading for Lakehurst."

The second message was apparently filed a half an hour later and came through the Boston navy yard. It read:

"ZR-3 making good progress. Sighted San Miguel Island off Port Bow at 11:10 zone time. Position at noon 38.50 N; 25 W. Average speed 60 knots. Air bumps first part of forenoon calming latter part. Ship will set direct course from Azores to Lakehurst.

"Since blowing valves this morning gas cells are about 90 per cent full. Plenty of daylight inside hull, light coming through after cover and through window near keel walk just below nose cap where a fine view ahead may be had, but the keel corridor is a lonesome place.

"Wash water exhausted, razors and toothbrushes having a real rest. Excellent dinner today, soup, boiled ham, string beans and pudding. Getting accustomed to routine; sleep during off watches. Some energetic ones playing phonograph. Others writing letters. No card playing yet, however. Pico Island just ahead at 1:30."

La Follette Says He's Got Dope On Startling Scandal

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 14.—Claiming discovery of "new and startling evidence," Robert M. La Follette today announced plans for presentation of his slush fund charges to the special senate investigating committee.

Frank P. Walsh, widely known labor attorney, has been selected by LaFollette to conduct the case of the progressives. After a midnight conference aboard the independent presidential candidate's private car Walsh left for Chicago where the investigation committee opens hearings next Friday.

In a statement making known his intentions, LaFollette reiterated his allegation that a "slush fund is now being collected by the Republican National Committee for use in doubtful states in an attempt to control the election for president."

Walsh, too, claimed "indisputable proof of a documentary character."

"Some of the aspects of this case are even more sinister than anything that has gone before in the history of politics," Walsh stated. "Some of the evidence in my possession indicates a situation that would cause any citizen to tremble for the perpetuity of our institutions.

"CONVICTS" OF ZOO SHOED LIKE HORSES

Shoeing one of the Zebras in Ringlingville

Years ago there were people who insisted that "zebras" were only white midget mules striped with black paint. No doubt there are persons who still think so. Now and then when some credulous youth hires out to John Patterson, superintendent of the Ringland Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows managerie the old fallacy is revived in the nature of a joke. The "stage is set" by one of Patterson's assistants, who hangs a "Fresh Paint" sign over the back of a zebra. Patterson then takes Johnnie Newcomer over to the herd. He tells him it will be his duty to wash the zebras, but warns him to be very careful to work only between the stripes and not to rub against the paint under penalty of being discharged. Then the stranger begins the job and furnishes much amusement, until he finally comes to realize that all that is black is not necessarily black paint.

The zebras who have been trained are shoed like horses and the circus blacksmiths experience some exciting moments adjusting the footgear to these frisky animals.

The "convicts," as the menagerie caretakers term the zebras, are but one species of the hundreds contained in the great zoo, which has been formed by combining the finest animals of the two famous circuses. To this have been added twenty troupes of trained tigers, lions, leopards, polar bears and other animals that form the personnel of the greatest aggregation of performing wild beasts ever exhibited in America. More than 200 trained horses form another recent acquisition. These include twenty-two Russian stallions trained in Europe and imported last winter.

Every department of the aggregation sets a new record for bigness and innovation. The mammoth introductory pageant, which opens the main tent program, is of a size and gorgeousness never before attempted. The arenic numbers which follow, introduce hundreds of stars, including the pick of the world's most famous champions. Exhibitions are to be given here Thursday, Oct. 16.

Baseball Scandal Probe Continues In Major Leagues

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Investigation into the New York Giant baseball scandal will be continued indefinitely.

Commissioner Landis, head of baseball before leaving for Chicago last night said most of his time after the finish of the World's Series had been taken up with the distribution of the million dollars among the various shareholders. He did not comment on the rumor heard during the series that he was going to withhold the Giant players share of the money but it is assumed that Cosy Dolan and Jimmy O'Connell were the only Giant players who did not get their pay.

"The business of sending out the players' shares has been cleaned up practically," Landis said. "Investigation into the scandal is still under way. As I said before, the case will not be closed. So far I have done everything that could be done, although it may seem incomplete to many people. I won't say whether I am satisfied as far as I have gone already. The future will tell that."

In addition to the Dolan-O'Donnell attempt to bribe Heinie Sand, Landis also may investigate stories of Red Doolin and Lou Crigger, former players, who said Giant players had offered them bribes. There also are charges of Ban Johnson president of the American League, that other players are involved and the accusation of Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, that his players were tampered with.

If he has not done so already, Landis may investigate the report on Broadway that an immense sum of money was waggered that the Giants would win the National League pennant by two games.

Landis and other officials said they had been impressed chiefly by the "appalling stupidity" of Dolan and O'Connell, in trying to get the Phillies to throw a game and give the Giants a pennant that was as good as cinched without any crooked work.

If someone wanted the pennant won by two games an entirely different complexion is placed upon the attempted bribe.

CRACK SUNSHINE SPECIAL WRECK FATAL TO 2

SENATOR BRANDEGEE OF CONNECTICUT COMMITS SUICIDE

POSITION IS IN LINE BETWEEN AZORES AND LAKEHURST

(By United Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Picking up speed the ZR-3 was making 75 miles per hour shortly after noon in reports to the Radio Corporation of America here. The location given by the craft indicates that the ship is far off her original course, presumably headed for New York direct without going by Bermuda. Her new position is in direct line between the Azores and Lakehurst.

CHATAM, Mass., Oct. 14.—At 9 a. m. today (7 a. m. Boston time) the ZR-3 in a radio message to W. C. C. the Radio Corporation of America, station here reported her position as Latitude 40.25 north; Longitude 44.00 west.

"All is well," the message said. Fine weather was being encountered it was said and the giant dirigible, roaring towards America reported the steamship Collingsworth directly beneath her.

WCC reported being in direct communication with the ZR-3 practically throughout the night from Amon. It is expected to maintain contact throughout today.

Half an hour after sending her position to WCC, the ZR-3 began receiving the government wind and barometer reports from the U. S. S. Milwaukee.

Working intermittently all thru the night on wave lengths of 2200 and 2,300 meters. Station WCC maintained practically ideal communication with the ZR-3, officers said. The dirigible used a wave length of 1,510 meters.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 14.—Another warning that a storm is sweeping down from the north caused postponement again of the flight of the Shenan doah from here to Camp Lewis, Washington.

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 14.—The ZR-3 is heading into a severe storm, the navy weather service announced today but if the big dirigible changes her course she may avoid it.

The weather service broadcast the following message to the dirigible, which has been in touch with American stations since last night:

"Local tornado on ship's route but seems tending northward. If ZR-3 heads toward Charleston, S. C. she might avoid it."

Her wireless crackling out cheering messages that all aboard are well, at least three of her four motors roaring rythmically and speeding her towards her goal the Zeppelin ZR-3 with four Americans and 28 German officers and men was drawing near to the United States today.

Storms were brewing in the dirigible's path and a local tornado was reported by the United States Navy Weather Service at 3 a. m. but it was pointed out that the disturbance was moving northward and that the Zeppelin was expected to avoid trouble.

At 8 a. m. calculating the ZR's diminished speed—her commander Dr. Eckener, had cut the airship down to 40 miles an hour—the dirigible was approximately 1,000 miles from Bermuda. She had some 1,700 miles yet to cruise before reaching Lakehurst, N. J.

American warships were scurrying to positions whence they best could aid the ZR-3 with reports of weather conditions, which now are the only cause for concern.

Throughout the night and early morning the ZR-3's wireless kept up a steady stream of reports—sometimes spluttering vainly for connections with land stations, sometimes ripping out a series of V's, the wireless test letter, always the messages were signed with the letters NERM, the Zeppelin's radio signature. And always the cheery report "all well."

MORE LOCATIONS MADE NEAR BAINS CREEK'S GASSER

The discovery of gas in the Woodbine formation across the Navasota river, on the Rich Kennedy farm, by the Bains Creek Petroleum Company, is arousing some little interest. It is believed that as the significance of this discovery becomes known that it will result in quite a rush of activity here. In other fields, the discovery of such proportions usually results in general excitement, it is pointed out by local citizens(but in this instance caused only a flurry. However, it is resulting in quite a number of locations, it is understood, and quite a number of additional tests will likely start up soon.

BAD INVESTMENT IN REAL ESTATE CAUSES TROUBLE

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Senator Frank Brandegee of Connecticut, republican, was found dead in the bath room of his home, a suicide. The body was fully clothed in a sitting position on the floor with a tube from an open gas jet in his mouth. Apparently he had been dead several hours. The police barred all callers pending the coroner's decision.

A note addressed to George Jones, chauffeur, dated yesterday, was found on the lower floor, read: "Dear George—I inclose $100 for you, same for Emma. I am in bath room on top floor. If you go up beware of gas. Goodbye. Frank Brandegee." Attached to the envelope were two $100 bills.

The persons mentioned in the note were servants.

After an investigation the coroner issued a suicide certificate.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The suicide of Senator Frank Brandegee was due to "personal financial troubles," caused by real estate investments, Secretary of War Weeks said here this morning. "I have been entirely familiar with Brandegee's personal business affairs and know that's the reason for taking this rash step, due to financial troubles resulting from adverse real estate investments," Weeks said.

CONSERVATIVES AND LIBERALS IN BRITAIN UNITED

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Conservatives and Liberals have united to defeat Labor in the forthcoming general election.

Although no official admission of such an anti-socialist compace could be obtained from spokesmen for either of the old parties, the purpose was evident today.

In many constituencies, either the Conservative or the Liberal candidate has withdrawn—clearing the way for a straight fight against Labor instead of a triangular contest which might end by giving the seat to the government party.

The two older parties will do their utmost to prevent re-election of Prime Minister MacDonald in his home constituency.

1924 Cotton Weighed In Mexia Surpasses That of Last Year

1924 cotton will surpass that of last year by about 1,000 bales weighed at Mexia, is the opinion of Roy Stokes, Public Weigher. The local yard had received 3,561 bales at noon Tuesday; as compared with 3,321 received on the same date last year. The total number of bales received last season was 3,730, which is 160 bales over what has already been received by the public weigher.

The cotton is coming in now at an average of about 50 bales per day, the weather being ideal for the farmers. September is always the biggest month for the gins but the crops have been pretty steady during this month. Some farmers have reported that they are through for the year, while others are only about two-thirds through. With about two months yet to go, the local cotton men are very optimistic over this year's record. Mexia is drawing cotton from a larger area than last year and is becoming more and more the headquarters for the farmer in this rich agricultural section of the Lone Star State.

MEXIA EVENING NEWS,
Mexia, Texas.

Dear Sir:

There were 32,352 bales of cotton, ginned in Limestone County, from the crop of 1924 prior to October 1st.

No comparison made at this date with last year as we did not make a report for this date.

I am, very truly yours,

Liberals in the House of Commons charged he acted under political pressure, and brought about a vote of censure for the Government. Hastings, explaining his withdrawal of the prosecution, declared the Communists wished to make a martyr of Campbell.

Drilling is progressing slowly but satisfactorily on the Roscoe Cook test, southeast two and a half miles. Also progress is being made on the Speight, where so much fishing trouble has been encountered on the way down.

Camp Logan P. O. Is Being Razed

(By United Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 14.—If buildings could talk—

The old postoffice at Camp Logan is being razed, to provide buildings at the city's zoo.

Hundreds of thousands of letters were doled out to soldiers at Camp Logan—letters that said "of course you'll come back," and others that breathed of deeper romance. Workmen found hundreds of names scrawled on partitions. There was a newspaper clipping of President Wilson's 14 points, pasted on the wall. But memories of the postoffice at Camp Logan will live longest in the memories of Texas soldiers now scattered to all sections of the state.

DR. TRUETT BRINGS GREAT MESSAGE TO CROWDED CHURCH SUNDAY MORN

Dr. George W. Truett's message at the First Baptist church, Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock, drew a crowded house. Many visitors were present from distant points in Limestone county and other counties adjacent to this. His message was pronounced magnificent and soul stirring by all who heard him. He spoke in the interest of the 75 million campaign. On account of being out on a heavy speaking engagement now, he could remain only a few hours. He extolled the citizenship here for building such a magnificent plant as is represented in the First Baptist church. Dr. Truett stated he hoped to be able to return sometime within the next year for a series of services lasting several days and in a conference with Pastor Joe Jeffers, Assistant Paul Harper and sevarl deacons set next April as the definite month of his coming. Monday's program at the Baptist church resulted in greater momentum for the great Baptist movement to back all causes and enterprises of the rapidly expanding denomination.

SPORTLIGHTS.

The Mexia Black Cats meet the Marlin Bulldogs Friday afternoon at Rimes park in Marlin.

The Black Cats sweeping victory over the Ennis aggregation last week looked mighty good from the side lines. The boys have the "stuff" to beat Marlin if they will only use it to the best advantage.

The game Friday will be the first interscholastic league conference game that the Marlin Bulldogs have played this season.

Class B high schools are those which have a high school enrollment not exceeding 350 students. The counties in the Mexia district besides Limestone are: Falls, McLennan, Bell, Hill and Ellis.

The most logical contenders for the district championship are Mexia, Belton, Marlin, Italy, Itasca and West.

After the Blackcats defeat Marlin they have an open week which as yet has not been filled. Possibly a game with some county team will be arranged for Oct. 24th.

Clover has improved one hundred percent at Quarter since last season and running the Blackcat team like a veteran.

The line with Lucas and Thompson at tackle positions, Corley and McKenzie at guards with Bennett as pivot man is a hard combination to beat.

The backfield men and ends are difficult to pick the most valuable players. Buford is one of the most spectacular fullbacks who has yet played on the local gridiron. While Perkinson and Karner are the hubs of one of the best coached high school teams in the district.

Coach Poteet has been instilling the fighting spirit, and clean football into the squad from the beginning and that is a combination which will win respect and admiration for any football team even though they go down in defeat.

But the Blackcats do not intend to go down in defeat when they tackle the Marlin Bulldogs Friday. They are going with the intention of adding another scalp to their belt for the dear old Mexia High. Go to it Blackcats, you have the school and whole city of Mexia behind you in victory or defeat.

Coach Chas. Lewis' Westminster Wildcats go to Hillsboro for a game with the Junior college to be played on Friday. Their last two games have ended in scoreless ties but they should break their jinx this week and roll up a few scores on the Hill county boys.

The real football weather has not yet hit this section and it is not unnatural that most games played so far have been slow and sluggish.

The Aggies-Sewanee game at the Dallas fair Saturday was almost in an oven. The stadium prevented a breeze from reaching the field from any direction and the hot sun had no pity on the players or spectators.

T. A. MEMBERS CARRY FIGHT TO FARRELL

The Texas association club owners met at the Raleigh hotel Sunday afternoon, in a heated controversy, without having accomplished a great deal along any lines. Every club in the league was well represented.

President A. B. Johnson called the meeting to order, and read the minutes of the last meeting held by the club owners. After the reading President Johnson offered his resignation as the president of the Texas association. The resignation was accepted provided Mr. Johnson would serve until a competent successor could be named.

A great amount of controversy came up when the discussion as to the contract drawn up during the summer in which the Waco baseball club should go back to Dupuy at the end of the season was brought up. One member stated that the league could not survive as long as Dupuy had anything to do with the Waco franchise. A committee was appointed to take up with J. H. Farrell, secretary of the National association of minor leagues, the matter in an effort to determine how H. A. Dupuy and the Waco baseball franchise stands in relation to the Texas association, and to take up necessary steps in the protection of the organization.

Until things concerning Dupuy and his standing in the matters discussed above are learned more clearly no new officers of the league will be elected.

Following are the names of those in attendance at the meeting: Austin, R. J. West; Corsicana, Dude Ransom; Marlin, N. E. Stockton; Mexia, Gray Forrest; Waco, H. A. Dupuy and Temple, Henry Meadows. Others present were Charles Clover W. C. Arnett and J. G. McIntosh of Mexia; Paul Moore and D. Poindexter of Corsicana; A. B. Hubbard of Waco, and Jinx Tucker, secretary of the league.—Waco Times-Herald.

"The Program of a Progressive Life" was the subject Sunday afternoon by Rev. Herbert Booth Smith, D. D. pastor of Immanuel church, Los Angeles.

The auditorium of the First Methodist church and Sunday School annex were crowded at the 2:30 hour when he addressed the gathering. He had to leave on the 3:45 train for his home, where he will arrive just in time to be present at the eighth anniversary of his pastorate.

The seapker was so pressed for time that he did not have an opportunity to dwell long on the last half of the discourse. His delivery and message were well received.

The text for the sermon was Phillippians 3:13 14. "Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: But this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things which are before, I press toward the mark for the prize."

In part he said:

"I love the Epistle to the Phillippians. It is a pastoral letter written by a preacher who had been arrested by the Roman government, to a people whom he loved. I think Paul was more devoted to the Phillippians than to the people of any other church he had founded, because they stand out above all others for their cordiality to the man who had brought them the gospel. Their church had not attained 11 years of growth, and yet had not forgotten him. At this particular time, Epapreditum had arrived after a dangerous journey, bringing with him supplies for the Apostle's wants, and Paul sits down and writes a letter overflowing with appreciation and gratitude.

I wonder if I may make a confession. Paul loved the people of his parish. So do I. They had responded freely to Pul's needs and desires. So have mine. They were singularly free from the factions and troubles of many of those early churches. The same is true of my people, and Pauls' letter is a communication rather than a warning.

Did you ever see a man unlock his soul? That is what Paul does here. He unlocks the safety deposit vault of his very being in these five verses which cluster about my text. He puts all the passion of his life into five words: "That I may know Him." We stand in the holy of holies of the apostle. He shows us the grand plan and specifications of that wonderful career. Here you have his 39 articles; his confession of faith; his shorter catechism, Magna Charter, Declaration of Independence; Footpath to Peace, all in one My text is his five pointed star, his formula for success. Someone once wrote a pamphlet "How to Succeed 5c." Paul tells us "How" here free.

You can ver yeasily touch the five points of the star: "Brethren I count not myself to have been apprehended," first of all, a discontented present; "But forgetting those things which are behind," a forgotten past; "and reaching forth unto those things which are before", a beckoning future; "This one thing I do", a unified aim; "I press toward the goal for the prize", a strenuous race. We have thus run around the circumference and touched the points of the star. Now let us move in from the periphery to the center. Let us get at the heart of Paul's program, if we can."

Nothing is more tragic than a lost ideal. The Christian is like a man riding a bicycle. He is either going on or going off. Here are two artists, I bring before you for the sake of contrast. One, standing befor his latest production, burst into tears exclaiming "I shall never do anything great again, because I am satisfied with my work. There was the tragedy. His hand had caught up with his brain, and there was no room for growth. On the other hand, the widow of the great artist Opie said that in nine years during which she was his wife, she never once saw him satisfied with his work. Often he would enter the room and throw himself down in despair, crying "I shall never be a painter as long as I live." So it is in the Christian life. I remember the letter which Dr. Speer says he received in the Foreign Mission Board office some years ago from man on the Pacific Coast who was offering himself for missionary service, and he began by saying he had entirely consecrated himself to the Saviour's work. He said he had been completely baptized by the Holy Spirit, and he felt he was fully qualified for the work required of him. Dr. Speer's first comment was this: "Now what can you do with a man like that? Is there any hope left for such a man. "The trouble with that man was that he had caught up to his stars. Ah, give me, on the other and, the men of the long look and the distant vision, who say: "We were dreamers, dreaming greatly, in the man stifled town; we yearned beyond the sky line, where the strange roads go down."

Kipling puts the idea well for us in his poem, "The Explorer":

"There's no sense in going farther, tis the adge of cultivation; So they said, and I believed it, broke my land and sowed my crop, Built my barns and strung my fences in the little border station, Tucked away below the foothills where the trails run out and stop."

The man seems to be satisfied with the present tense and to lose, the call of the beyond.

"Till a voice as bad as Conscience rang interminable changes on one everlasting whisper, day and night repeated, so; something hidden. Go and find it. Go and look behind the ranges; lost and waiting for you, go. So, I went, worn, out of patience; never told my nearest neighbors." Of course not, they would have glued him there. "Then I knew the while I doubted, knew His hand was certain o'er me. Still it might be self delusion, scores of better men had died. I could reach the township living, but . . . . He knows what terros tore me. But I didn't, but I didn't. I went down the other side."

Entered as second-class matter, February 26, 1919, at the Postoffice at Mexia, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

NON-VOTERS NOT ILLITERATE.

The mayor of a considerable city in New York is inclined to depreciate the importance laid upon the size of the stay-at-home vote, says The Christian Science Monitor. To him there is nothing terrifying in the fact that senators are continually elected by a beggarly minority of the qualified voters of their states, and that, even in presidential contests, the proportion of the vote cast to the entire potential vote has been steadily decreasing until in 1920 it barely reached 50 per cent of the whole.

The mayor of Binghampton says on this subject:

"A lot of propaganda is put forth to force all voters to go to the polls. It is said that less than half of the 50,000,000 voters in this country take the trouble to vote, and it is proposed by some that laws be enacted to compel disinterested voters to vote. But why should we attempt to stampede disinterested or unintelligent voters to the polls like so many sheep? What use is the 5,000,000 voters who can neither read nor write? What value is the vote of the man or woman who has no interest in public questions and who lacks intelligence to study such questions?"

The fundamental difficulty with this view of the situation is that it is not the fact that unintelligent or illiterate voters stay away from the polls. As a matter of truth, the-stay-at-home vote is largest among the better educated classes—we will not say among the more intelligent classes, because a vote which is not cast is certainly not the vote of an intelligent voter. But it is the illiterate, the ill-equipped voters who, to quote the politician, are stampeded "to the polls like so many sheep."

As he says, education will to some extent correct this tendency, but not mere education of a literary sort. The people who possess that now stay at home on election day. Education which will lead to a wider comprehension of the fact that it is the lethargy and indifference of voters, even more than the intrigues or machinations of professional politicians, which create and perpetuate bad government, may, perhaps, have the effect of stimulating more citizens to the discharge of their duty. There is something to think of in the fact that in the United States with its high proportion of educated people, the stay-at-home vote is almost twice that it is in Great Britain, and that, in the states showing the highest ratio of illiteracy, the proportion of the stay-at-homes is less than it is in those in which education is well nigh universal.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

FIGHTING OVER THE SPOILS.

(Waco News-Tribune.)

When Jay Gould died he left an estate valued at more than $100,000,000 dollars and a gigantic system of railways for his heirs to dominate and control. His eldest son, George Jay Gould, was made chief trustee.

George Jay Gould is dead. His brothers and sisters and his grandchildren are quarreling over the spoils. Provisions of his will have been violated. This is one of the contentions of the plaintiffs. George, in handling the vast estate, is said to have feathered his own nest.

Millions of the Gould money have been dissipated or squandered by Jay Gould's children in foreign lands. Litigation has been on for several years. It was precipitated when George Gould died, leaving a widow and a brood of small children born out of wedlock.

Jay Gould was said to be the keenest business man of the period in which he lived. He had a battery of the wisest lawyers that money could hire. Now Referee James R. O'Gorman is taking the evidence of all parties to the suit and all the witnesses.

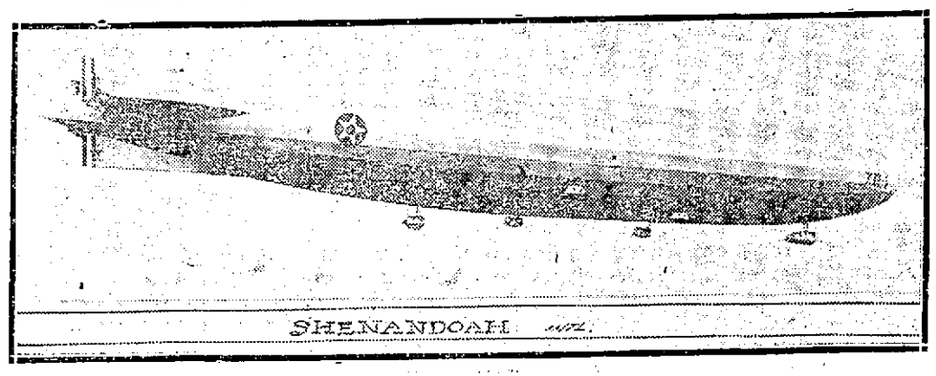
He will submit his report at the conclusion of the hearing to a supreme court justice of the court of New York. This will not close the suit. It will be kept in the courts for years. Jay Gould got his start in life by selling a patent mouse trap. His children and his grandchildren are making merry with the millions he left behind.

Wise men make a division of their wealth before they cross the dark river. Then the favored ones are permitted to blow their patrimony or to nurse and increase it. It is their own funeral regardless of the road they take.

James J. Hill, the builder of the northwest, left behind him an enormous fortune. Now a son and two daughters of the dead giant have brought suit against Lewis Hill, the favored of his father, to compel him to restore to the other heirs valuable property which the mother of all had bequeathed to the first of the flock before death called her away.

Why should the scrub scions of a noble sire wash dirty linen in the courts?

SHENANDOAH SAILS ON HER LONGEST AIR VOYAGE.



The U. S. S. Shenandoah is shown as she left her station in Lakehurst, N. J., on a 7,500-mile voyage to Washington, Atlanta, Fort Worth, the Pacific Coast, Seattle, Wash., and return, the longest flight ever attempted by a dirigible. Admiral W. A. Moffett, head of the navy's air service, was a passenger. The ship, commanded by Commander Zachary Lansdowne, carried a crew of thirty, with 3,000 gallons of gasoline and food for five days.

PICTURES BY LOCAL ARTISTS ON DISPLAY

The American Art Bureau has designated October 13th-23rd as National Picture Week, and dealers in pictures, picture frames and mouldings are co-operating with them by having special exhibits of original paintings, prints and reproductions.

Today we have on display some of the work of our local artists—paintings by some of our own citizens, which are quite creditable. In one of our windows we are showing two oil paintings by Mrs. J. L. Smith, which are being admired by every one. One is Stoke Pogis Church in England, where Gray's "Elegy in a Country Churchyard" was written. It is a stately building in the architecture of that period in warm tints of brown and buff, the leaves of the trees and the grass in the foreground having the changing colors of autumn. The other picture is a sketch of our Texas wild-flowers in the spring—a carpet of blue, yellow and red along a pathway through the woods.

Another painting that has excited favorable comment is a flower study by Mrs. J. L. Metcalf—Asters in rich tones of rose, purple and creamy white.

In this group we also have some wonderful examples of ceramic art by Mrs. Fort Smith—a lovely tea service in Satsuma ware, a powder box in enamles, a tea and toast set with a dainty basket decoration and a vase with a beautiful design of lavender flowers.

We also have work by other people in town, and a detailed description of their pictures will be given from time to time during the week. COME IN AND SEE THIS COLLECTION OF BEAUTIFUL PICTURES.

This is National Picture Week

National Picture Week, October 13th-23rd is being observed by the McSwane Flower & Gift Shop, and they are showing a wonderful array of pictures both in their show windows and their store. In one window they are showing a group of bluebonnet sketches by Miss Janet Downie of Austin, who by many art lovers is considered the foremost artist in this line. There is also another wild-flower study in yellows, coreopsis in all its glory, and the three pictures are pleasing transcripts of the most radiant spots of earth, pictures that at once appeal to the eye. With this group of pictures there is also displayed a black silk shawl painted in gorgeous coloring, in a design of red roses.

In the other window there are pictures by local artists, Mrs. J. L. Smith, Mrs. J. L. Metcalf, and hand-painted china by Mrs. Fort Smith. A more detailed description of this group is given in another column.

"KEEP Your Credit GOOD"

The Man Who Robs Himself

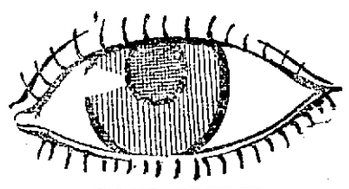
The man with the credit-rating "poor" is handicapped from the start. FOR CREDIT is the basis on which business men, bankers and professional men judge character.

They figure that the man who will not play square with the merchants who trusted him will not do any better with others.

A man may be worth millions and yet be so slow in settling his obligations that merchants will refuse him Credit.

On the other hand, a ditch digger, working hard for a mere few dollars a day but realizing the importance of Making Good His Word Promptly, can buy anything he wants ON CREDIT.

WE WATCH



YOUR CREDIT

We weed out men or women who do not pay their bills.

We have a Clearing House through which we merchants of Mexia can secure accurate Credit Information, and learn how a customer has been paying his bills.

No man can make a practice of buying first from one merchant and then from another without meeting his obligations.

If you don't pay your bills every merchant knows it and handles you accordingly.

Picking Baseball Winners For 1925

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Winning pennants in strings has become such a custom in the major leagues that the thought naturally arises after the world's series: "Will the Senators and the Giants repeat?"

It is no more possible to answer the question now than it was after the series last year, because form doesn't last over a protracted period. The fickleness of dope was well illustrated during the past season when the surprising Senators came through as the pennant winner in the American League over the New York Yankees.

When the entries in the two leagues drew up to the wire last April, it was almost the unanimous opinion that the Yankees should have no great difficulty in winning their fourth straight championship and that only a McGraw could steer the Giants around the competition that was threatened from Pittsburgh and Cincinnati.

As the Boston Red Sox caused a temporary surprise and the Senators came through with a permanent shock in the American League, the older circuit had the baffling Brooklyn Robins as evidence that it is impossible to figure a team's form over a season.

The best tumble that the Senators got from the experts was that they were an experiment with a kid manager and that they might have to fight hard for a place in the first division. All the recognition that the Robins got was that it was the worst looking team in the major leagues and would be fortunate to keep out of the cellar or the ground floor.

The prospects of the Giants and the Senators in the 1925 pennant races quite naturally depend upon the opposition that will face them. From all appearances at this early date they will have plenty of competition.

The opinion has been expressed in the past two years that when the Yankees finally cracked that they would do it with a complete explosion that would toss them into the second division. The former world's champions are not a young ball club. They needed patching last year, and they need more patching for another pennant fight. Unless the scouts are able to find something for Colonel Jake Ruppert to spend his good money on, the Yanks hardly figure as the outstanding challenger next year.

To rebuild the team, the Yanks have one young outfileder, Earl Combs, and a young first baseman, Lou Gehrig. They need a young catcher better than Hoffman or Bengough, and they need about four young pitchers to be ready to step in for Bush, Shawkey and Jones. Hoyt has given promise each spring of developing into a great pitcher, but he has always stopped on the way. Pennock had of a great season, but he may fall off next season, as star pitchers usually do.

ANCIENT AZTEC TEMPLE SOUGHT BY CALIFORNIANS

(By International News Service.)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14.—The loot of an Aztec temple—gold, jewels and rare ornaments—valued at more than $3,000,000, is the object of a treasure hunt launched here by three Californians.

The treasure believed to be buried in Antelope Valley, not far from Los Angeles, is being hunted by George L. Murphy, Glen Foster and Joseph Juriek, who have already started intensive digging for the lost fortune.

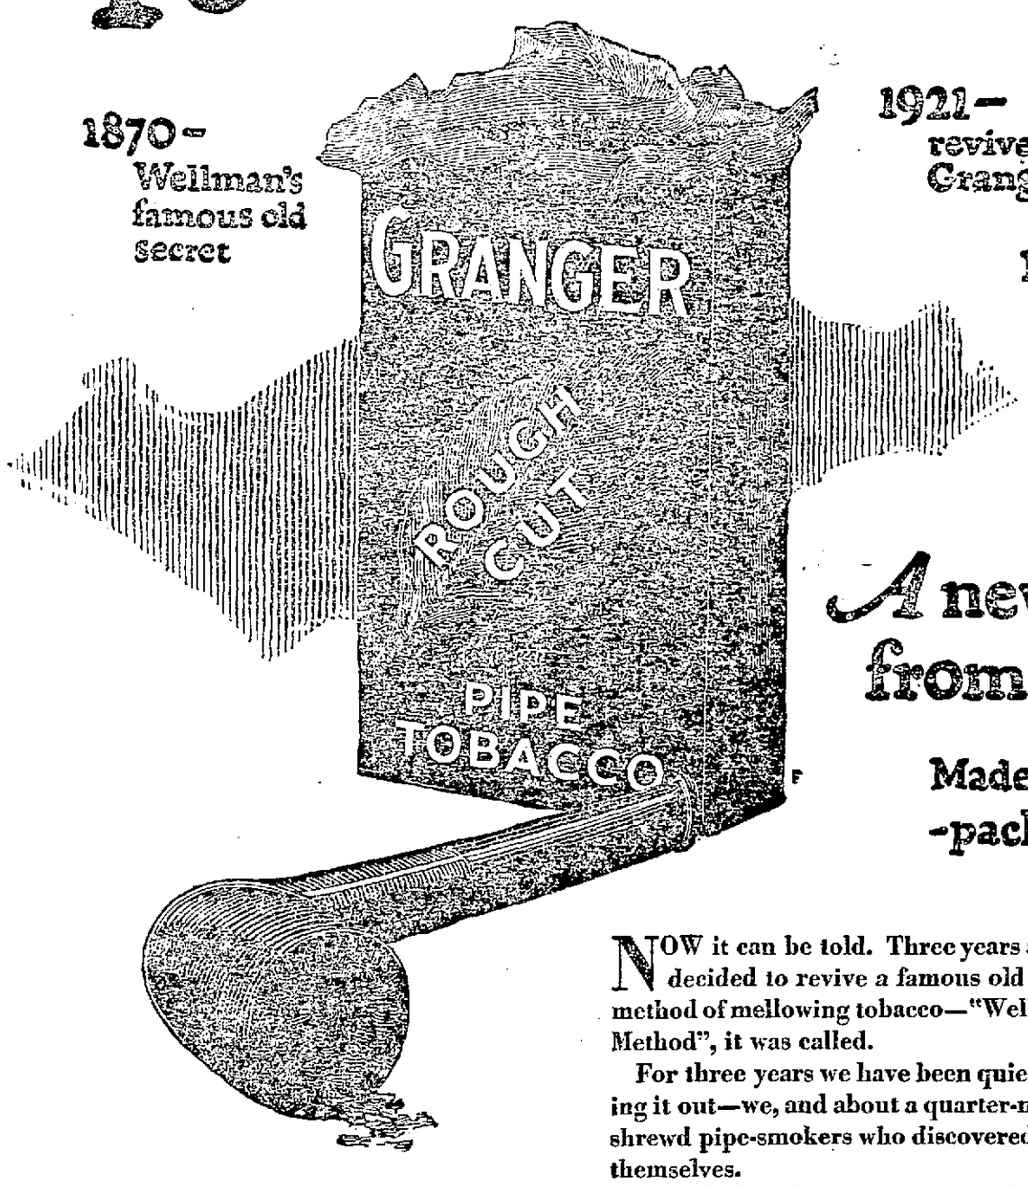
An old tobacco secret re-discovered—



1870—Wellman's famous old secret

1921—revived for Granger

1924—a popular seller in 32 states—a quarter-million smokers

A new richness from an old-time process

Made for pipes—cut for pipes—packed sensibly to save money

NOW it can be told. Three years ago we decided to revive a famous old secret method of mellowing tobacco—"Wellman's Method", it was called.

For three years we have been quietly trying it out—we, and about a quarter-million shrewd pipe-smokers who discovered it for themselves.

No whirlwind campaigns, no "special offers", no extravagant claims; Granger Rough Cut has made good on its taste alone. There could be no better proof of its quality.

Now we are ready to "tell the world".

An extraordinary pipe tobacco. "Wellman's Method"—now ours exclusively—not only mellows tobacco, but "rounds it out"—gives it a new taste, richer and milder. There's no other method like it, nor any other tobacco like Granger.

And not only differently mellowed, but cut differently—cut for pipes. The Rough Cut burns more slowly, hence smokes cooler—and a pipe-load lasts nearly twice as long.

And finally—notice the package.

If Granger Rough Cut were packed in fancy lithographed tins, it would cost 15 cents.

But wrapped in smart heavy foil, you get this fuller, longer, cooler smoke at a third less cost. Foil instead of costly tin—hence the price.

Too good to be true? Ask any man who has tried it. Better yet—get out your pipe!

10¢

Granger Rough Cut

A Pointer on Tobacco—

The slower a tobacco burns, the cooler it smokes. Also the longer it lasts. This slow burning is due to the "cut". Granger is "rough cut" to smoke slow and cool—cut for pipes, not cigarettes. And Wellman's famous old secret method produces richer fragrance and taste.

PIMPLES & BUMPS TAKE THE JOY OUT OF LIFE

Girls, and boys, too, whose faces are "broken out," rough, pimply and blotched, imagine all sorts of weird things.

The worst fault it leads to is using just anything which promises them relief from their condition, which oftener makes their trouble worse. Never put anything on your skin which has not been proven by the test of time and public opinion to be right. In this connection the phenomenal success, which is called Black and White Ointment, and the soap, too, offers sufferers from such skin diseases the one reliable and dependable means of relief and restoration of their skin to that clear, smooth and lovely condition it was in their youth.

Black and White Ointment, and Soap, are economically priced, in liberal size packages. The 50c size of the ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—(Adv.)

GREAT SHIP IS NEARING THE COAST OF THE U. S.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Speeding from the Azores Islands to Lake hurst, N. J., the ZR-3 at 8 a. m. today was 1,200 miles off New York, according to estimates of Navy Department authorities.

Still without direct communication with the giant dirigible officers based their estimate on two long dispatches received from Captain Steele, American observer aboard at 4:15 a. m. today via the Boston navy yard.

Steele said the ship had turned her blunt nose due west after passing the Azores, eliminating the Bermudas from her route and was pushing her way through the air at a good speed with three engines. The others have been cut off to save fuel.

If nothing occurs to check her speed the ZR-3 should arrive at Lakehurst sometime tonight or early tomorrow morning, according to calculations.

A slight accident gave the crew a few anxious moments when one of the gas cells was torn over the Azores but it was speedily repaired Steele said.

The first of the messages apparently was filed by Steele at 1 p. m. yesterday. It was relayed to the department by the cruiser Detroit, stationed in mid-ocean via the Boston navy yard and says:

"ZR-3 passed Azores this afternoon. Wonderful view of islands. Dropped bag of personal mail from crew by parachute. Rose to 5,000 feet and valved gas as ship was too light and blew most down. One gas cell slightly torn in descending but immediately repaired without damage. Running with three engines for economy, making 48 knots air speed following light breeze and heading for Lakehurst."

The second message was apparently filed a half an hour later and came through the Boston navy yard. It read:

"ZR-3 making good progress. Sighted San Miguel Island off Port Bow at 11:40 zone time. Position at noon 38.50 N; 25 W. Average speed 60 knots. Air bumps first part of forenoon calming latter part. Ship will set direct course from Azores to Lakehurst.

"Since blowing valves this morning gas cells are about 90 per cent full. Plenty of daylight inside hull, light coming through after cover and through window near keel walk just below nose cap where a fine view ahead may be had, but the keel corridor is a lonesome place.

"Wash water exhausted, razors and toothbrushes having a real rest. Excellent dinner today, soup, boiled ham, string beans and pudding. Getting accustomed to routine; sleep during off watches. Some energetic ones playing phonograph. Others writing letters. No card playing yet, however. Pico Island just ahead at 1:30."

La Follette Says He's Got Dope On Startling Scandal

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Oct. 14.—Claiming discovery of "new and startling evidence," Robert M. La Follette today announced plans for presentation of his slush fund charges to the special senate investigating committee.

Frank P. Walsh, widely known labor attorney, has been selected by LaFollette to conduct the case of the progressives. After a midnight conference aboard the independent presidential candidate's private car Walsh left for Chicago where the investigation committee opens hearings next Friday.

In a statement making known his intentions, LaFollette reiterated his allegation that a "slush fund is now being collected by the Republican National Committee for use in doubtful states in an attempt to control the election for president."

Walsh, too, claimed "indisputable proof of a documentary character."

"Some of the aspects of this case are even more sinister than anything that has gone before in the history of politics," Walsh stated. "Some of the evidence in my possession indicates a situation that would cause any citizen to tremble for the perpetuity of our institutions.

"CONVICTS" OF ZOO SHOED LIKE HORSES

Shoeing one of the Zebras in Ringlingville

Years ago there were people who insisted that "zebras" were only white midget mules striped with black paint. No doubt there are persons who still think so. Now and then when some credulous youth hires out to John Patterson, superintendent of the Ringland Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Shows managerie the old fallacy is revived in the nature of a joke. The "stage is set" by one of Patterson's assistants, who hangs a "Fresh Paint" sign over the back of a zebra. Patterson then takes Johnnie Newcomer over to the herd. He tells him it will be his duty to wash the zebras, but warns him to be very careful to work only between the stripes and not to rub against the paint under penalty of being discharged. Then the stranger begins the job and furnishes much amusement, until he finally comes to realize that all that is black is not necessarily black paint.

The zebras who have been trained are shoed like horses and the circus blacksmiths experience some exciting moments adjusting the footgear to these frisky animals.

The "convicts," as the menagerie caretakers term the zebras, are but one species of the hundreds contained in the great zoo, which has been formed by combining the finest animals of the two famous circuses. To this have been added twenty troupes of trained tigers, lions, leopards, polar bears and other animals that form the personnel of the greatest aggregation of performing wild beasts ever exhibited in America. More than 200 trained horses form another recent acquisition. These include twenty-two Russian stallions trained in Europe and imported last winter.

Every department of the aggregation sets a new record for bigness and innovation. The mammoth introductory pageant, which opens the main tent program, is of a size and gorgeousness never before attempted. The arenic numbers which follow, introduce hundreds of stars, including the pick of the world's most famous champions. Exhibitions are to be given here Thursday, Oct. 16.

Baseball Scandal Probe Continues In Major Leagues

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Investigation into the New York Giant baseball scandal will be continued indefinitely.

Commissioner Landis, head of baseball before leaving for Chicago last night said most of his time after the finish of the World's Series had been taken up with the distribution of the million dollars among the various shareholders. He did not comment on the rumor heard during the series that he was going to withhold the Giant players share of the money but it is assumed that Cosy Dolan and Jimmy O'Connell were the only Giant players who did not get their pay.

"The business of sending out the players' shares has been cleaned up practically," Landis said. "Investigation into the scandal is still under way. As I said before, the case will not be closed. So far I have done everything that could be done, although it may seem incomplete to many people. I won't say whether I am satisfied as far as I have gone already. The future will tell that."

In addition to the Dolan-O'Donnell attempt to bribe Heinie Sand, Landis also may investigate stories of Red Doolin and Lou Crigger, former players, who said Giant players had offered them bribes. There also are charges of Ban Johnson president of the American League, that other players are involved and the accusation of Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, that his players were tampered with.

If he has not done so already, Landis may investigate the report on Broadway that an immense sum of money was waggered that the Giants would win the National League pennant by two games.

Landis and other officials said they had been impressed chiefly by the "appalling stupidity" of Dolan and O'Connell, in trying to get the Phillies to throw a game and give the Giants a pennant that was as good as cinched without any crooked work.

If someone wanted the pennant won by two games an entirely different complexion is placed upon the attempted bribe.

A Famous Star

Carmel Myers

—Pictured here is the famous screen star—Carmel Myers—and the gown designed especially for her by Peggy Paige. It's a gown of black faille combined with Crepe de Chine of poudre bleu trimmed with the new silver kid trimmings—cuir d'sargent—and presents a very clever interpretation of the Redingote or coat-and dress effect, which isone of Fashion's very latest modes. Shown in our windows tonight.
